00:03 - 00:11	When we were opening, we were looking at traditional till systems, but then I wanted something that was quite pleasing to the eye.
00:12 - 00:14	I wanted something that was easy to use.
00:16 - 00:19	The set-up of Clover was really, really easy as well.
00:20 - 00:29	What you can do with the inventories, or the stock and everything, you just put that on a spreadsheet and you just email that to them and within 20 minutes it was all on the till, ready to use.
00:30 - 00:42	Another really good thing that I find helpful is when people are coming to pay the bills. They can just pay for each item, or you can split it two ways, three ways, which is really helpful when people are in a rush.
00:42 - 00:52	On the till it has the App Market and there's loads of different apps that will help you with your business, whether it be a café, restaurant, hairdressers, or anything, there's loads of apps on there.
00:53 - 00:59	As the manager of the business it's really important for me to be able to keep an eye on the business when I'm not always here.
01:00 - 01:11	It does have an app that you can access on your phone - the dashboard app - and that allows me to keep an eye on takings, keep an eye on the reports, so that I can go home on a night, I can have days off.
01:11 - 01:16	I don't think we could have done it really, as well as we have and run so smoothly without it.
